

The British Association of Critical Care Nurses and the World Federation of Critical Care Nurses have great pleasure in inviting critical care colleagues to attend this prestigious and exciting event.

The event will provide opportunities for critical care nurses from all over the world to meet and share their views and experiences of critical care practice. Abstracts will be invited from participants and key international experts will present leading-edge material. Together with a rich social programme, this Conference promises to be a very special meeting.

Do join us!

COME AND VISIT ENGLAND!

Via this Conference we want you to benefit from an excellent meeting and an enjoyable trip. We are looking at venues that have a real English flavour to them. Venues which are close to rolling countryside, picturesque villages and breathtaking scenery yet which are internationally accessible via the London airports. We want to be surrounded by history and heritage and give participants in this meeting an opportunity to enjoy some of the beautiful things in England that for centuries have enchanted and inspired artists, poets and romantics.
